

Papillon

NOSE

A delicate and precise nose that unveils aromas of Morello cherry, black cherry, and fresh brioche. Deep garnet colour with blueish highlights.

PALATE

On the palate, a fine and taut entry marked by chalky yet enveloping tannins, showcasing silky flavours of cherry eau-de-vie, violet, and liquorice stick.

NOTES

Persistent length in a wine that is both pleasing, precise and generous. Calling for a short bottle ageing.

TERROIR

Grapes are sourced from the "Lou Pla" terroir (Catalan for "The Plain"), with relatively rich clay-limestone soils at an altitude of 120m, and from "Les Bacs" (Catalan for a north-facing shaded slope), where the cooler slopes retain their freshness. The Jurassic limestone scree is more prominent in the Les Bacs area.

WINEMAKING

The grapes are sorted and destemmed, followed by short macerations of around one week with daily punch-downs, aiming for a gentle extraction without over-emphasising intensity.
